EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Ground of Opposition to Caleb Cushing as Chief Justice.

WASHINGTON, Jan 12.—There is bitter opposition to the confirmation of Caleb Cushing, nominated as Chief Justice. The common objections are urged only on political grounds. The chances are in favor of his confirmation. The New York Times denounces him as devoid of any fixed political principles.

New York Workingmen to Have Another Demonstration.

NEW YORK, Jan 12.—Trouble is anticipated with workingmen who will make a demonstration to-morrow, and military power will probably be called to preserve the peace.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Scheme for a Double-Track Railroad from New York to Council Bluffs, to be Owned by a Private Corporation and Operated by the Government.

WASHINGTON, Jan 12.—Representative Hurlbut of Illinois, a member of the Committee on Railways and Canals, will to-morrow introduce a bill the feature of which he foreshadowed at a meeting of friends of cheap transportation last night, for the construction of a double track freight railroad from New York to Council Bluffs, with branches to the Chicago and St Louis Railroad, to be constructed and operated by a corporation under the auspices of the General Government, and to be controlled by Government Commissioners. Rates for the transportation of cereals are to be fixed at five mills per ton per mile for a distance of over seven hundred and fifty miles—the entire length of the road being fifteen hundred miles—and for a shorter distance than seven hundred and fifty miles they are to be a little less than five mills per ton per mile. The road is to be operated exclusively as a freight road for cereals, stock, and other productions. Trains will move at the quickest economical rate of speed, which will be at least ten miles an hour. The cost of the road is estimated at $17,000,000, including necessary rolling stock. Government aid is suggested as a guarantee of five per cent interest on $30,000,000 of bonds.

Postal Changes for the Pacific Coast.

The following changes have been made in postal matters on the Pacific coast: Offices established—At Clifton, Clatsop county, Oregon, Vincent Cooke P M; at Unalaska, Alaska, Charles Wagner P M. Names changed—Sumner's Prairie, Whatcom county, W T, to Chehalis, and John Newlan appointed Postmaster.

Testimony taken as to the Sinking of the Virginius.

The United States Naval Court yesterday examined Captain Whiting, to whom the Virginius was delivered at Bahia Honda; Lieutenant Marix, who commanded her on the passage from Bahia Honda to Tortugas, and engineer Harris, who inspected her at the latter place. The object of the investigation was to ascertain the cause of the sinking of the vessel. Captain Whiting testified that when he took charge of the steamer there was no appearance of any leak; that he considered her in condition to make the voyage to New York in fair weather. United States ensign Calhoun, who was on board the Virginius, testified that considerable exertion was necessary to keep the vessel clear of water from her start from Tortugas. December 23d signalled the Ossipee, "Can go no farther north than dock at Charleston." The Ossipee replied, "We are bound for Charleston." December 24th the Chief Engineer of the Ossipee went on board the Virginius to inspect the boilers, the crown sheet of her after boiler having collapsed, and the same day the Ossipee signalled "We will continue up coast." Her course was then changed to northwest. The remainder of the testimony confirms previous press dispatches.

Domestic Relations of the Happy Family of America.

MATAMORAS, Jan 11.—The forces of Gen. Zepeda, who deposed the Governor of Coahuila, have again been defeated by the troops supporting the Legislature and Governor Silas. An action took place near the Capital of the State and although it was a severe engagement it was not decisive. Both parties are still in the field and the General Government has appointed a Provisional Governor for the State until a new election can be held. It is supposed that General Fleury, who is in command of about 1,000 Federal troops and 2,000 National Guards, will be able to prevent further hostilities between the followers of General Zepeda and Governor Silas.

General Escobedo, Governor of San Luis Potosi, has retired, and Manuel Muero has taken charge as Provisional Governor. It is said Escobedo leaves the office to attend to private business, but a want of accord between him and the General Government is perhaps the real reason.

The Siege of Cartagena Drawing to a Close.

LONDON, Jan 12—6 A M.—A special from Madrid to the Times says that Dominguez, commander of the forces besieging Cartagena, has telegraphed that he has compelled Atalaya Castle to surrender and that he has summoned the other forts of the city. A telegram to the Standard from the vicinity of Cartagena gives a rumor that another magazine exploded within the walls on Saturday and that 200 persons were killed. It is expected that the capture of Atalaya Castle will lead to a speedy capitulation.

In a State of Siege.

MADRID, Jan 12.—The Provinces of Madrid, Avila, Cuenca, Ciudad Real, Guadalajara, La Jara, Segovia and Toledo are declared in a state of siege. Carlists have captured three companies of Government troops.

STREET CAR ROMANCE

A QUEER MISTAKE—STRANGE ADVENTURE OF A LOVELY AND LOVING WEST SIDE DAMSEL

[From the Cleveland Herald, December 22d.]

As very few if any of the passengers in the Detroit street car bound for the East side at 9 o'clock Thursday evening understood the matter, we will "rise to explain."

The girl was to blame, there can be no doubt about that. No fellow, much less our hero, who stepped upon the rear platform of the car in which she was sitting, at the Courtland street crossing, on the evening in question, could have withstood the temptation to do just what he did. She sat in one corner endeavoring to read a public library book by the faint light of the lamp above, when the young man entered. She raised her eyes—such eyes—from the volume, and before the gentleman could take a seat, precipitated herself forward with both arms extended and hugged and kissed him, shouting "Oh! cousin John."

It is perhaps needless for us to say that the youth was not the fair maid's cousin, and had never seen her before in his life, but he did not deem it polite to contradict her, and therefore, recovering from the surprise and emotion into which the suddenness of the assault had thrown him, he gained courage and imprinted a couple of smacks upon her damask cheek in return. She did not scream, but smiled lovingly upon him a smile that smote the youth to the inmost depths of his soul.

"Why, when did you arrive in the city?" said she, at length releasing her hold and [illegible] the stranger doing the same.

"To-night," answered the bogus [illegible].

"Then you must come and see me right off. We will get out of the car at [illegible] street."

Such an invitation from such lips was too much for the supposed John, although [illegible] to the bottoms of his fashionably made [illegible] gaiters it was impossible for him to resist the beauty's urgent entreaties, and when the place was reached he stopped the car and, assisting her out, followed her to her home, which he [illegible] to be one of the most imposing residences in that portion of the city. He was immediately ushered into the parlor and the girl departed in search of her mother, whom our hero inwardly wished in [illegible]. Fortunately, however, she was not at home, and he was permitted an hour's [illegible] happiness, only marred by the fear that some of the lady's relatives would enter the apartment and detect the imposture. But at the end of that period he found himself getting very [illegible] to the maiden on the [illegible] and some way or other, how the youthful reader can best tell, he explained very gently that he was not John at all, but that short hour in which he had been acquainted with her had inspired an intense feeling of love within his soul which could only be gratified at the [illegible]. Our tale would not be truthful did we not [illegible] that [illegible] became very [illegible] of the mistake, but she [illegible], and when the gentleman left [illegible] great joy departed [illegible].

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 12.—Antoni Hunckler is on trial for the murder of his mother. The indictment will be set aside and a new one ordered. He is accused of having murdered his mother, Catherine Erin, in a drunken row Sept [illegible].

Walter Van Dyke has taken his position as U S District Attorney.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 12.—The trial of Antoni Hunckler for the murder of his mother, Catherine Erin, commenced to-day. Flaws were discovered in the indictment which will necessitate its being set aside and a new one ordered. He is accused of murdering his mother in September last in a drunken row, but claims that she fell down and killed herself.

The annual meeting of the San Francisco Stock Exchange Board was held to-day and resulted in the re-election of the old officers as follows: Wm Barling, President; Coll Deane, Vice President; B H Coit, Chairman; Henry Schmiedell, Treasurer; Franklin Lawton, Secretary; W H L Barnes, Counsellor.

At a meeting of the city officials, to-day, to consider the question of paying $50,000 temporary revenue bonds, it was decided that the Mayor shall call on the bond holders and ask an extension of the time.

The Crown Point mine paid $300,000 to the stockholders to-day.

No news yet of the steamer China from Hongkong and Yokohama. The Colorado is due to-morrow and it is hoped she may bring some tidings of the missing vessel.

Fourteen women were locked up this evening for drunkenness, several being new customers at City Hall.

No new cases of small pox have been reported, and the fears of an epidemic of the disorder have subsided.

A large force of workmen are still employed in washing down the new Mint building and covering up the flaws in the sandstone of the walls as far as possible. The success of the operation is extremely problematical.

Interior California.

VALLEJO, Jan 12.—The money bet in pools on the boat race yesterday between Nelson and Stevenson is being refunded to-night in consequence of the race being declared foul.

The officers of San Pablo Lodge, I O O F, are being installed by D D G M Clark to-night.

OAKLAND, Jan 12.—There was quite an excitement to-day in this city over the election by the members of the Oakland Fire Department of a Chief Engineer and two Assistants. The candidates for Chief were J F Steen, the present incumbent, and James Moffitt, both of East Oakland. Considerable money was spent and liquor flowed quite freely, but the election passed off very quietly. The result was in favor of Steen by 20 majority. Charles T Burroughs, of Oakland, was elected First and Ed Surrhyn, of West Oakland, Second Assistant. Steen is an old fireman and his re-election is a satisfactory one to the citizens generally.

SACRAMENTO, Jan 12.—It is proposed to establish a smelting works in this city, and to further this object a meeting was held this morning of those interested, when various plans were discussed. It is probable that a company will be incorporated for that purpose. About $6,000 was subscribed among those present, and a committee appointed to solicit further subscriptions.

Jack Biderman's body has been taken from the vault in which it had been placed preparatory to its removal to Philadelphia.

WATSONVILLE, Jan 12.—Sheriff Orton brought in three burglars this evening and lodged them in the calaboose. They went through a house in Santa Cruz last evening, taking a gold watch, a large seal ring, some promissory notes and other articles. The Sheriff got on their track this morning and overhauled them at Whisky Hill and captured them. They gave their names as Annis Lotz, Charles Miller and Frank Bowman. They are well supplied with burglars' tools.

Weather cool and pleasant.

OLYMPIA, Jan 12.—The steamer Diana, from San Francisco for Port Townsend, experienced very heavy weather near Grays Harbor and was run ashore near Quinault, 80 miles south of Cape Flattery. Her owner, Mr Brittan, and crew, landed without loss. The vessel is badly broken up.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Loss of the Steamer Diana in Northern Pacific Waters.

SEATTLE, Jan 12.—The engineer of the steamer Diana, from San Francisco to the Sound, who arrived here this morning, reports her total loss about 80 miles south of Cape Flattery. Heavy weather carried away her pilot-house, and being then unable to keep the water out of her they beached her. All the crew were saved. The engineer came to Olympia on foot and arrived here on the steamer North Pacific this morning.

SOTHERN AND DUNDREARY

Here is an interesting reminiscence related by the veteran actor Mr C W Couldock:

In 1859, just after the terrible panic, I was playing in New York city with Laura Keene. Sothern was with us. One day Miss Keene handed me the new play, The American Cousin. I was assigned the part of Abel Murcott. It was then a prominent part—had not been cut down to what it now is. I took the play and read it. I considered it a Yankee farce, and said I wouldn't play in it. Sothern came storming into my room and said he wouldn't play Dundreary. We declared we'd throw up our engagement. Then Miss Keene came about to pacify us, and begged us not to leave her. She said we could change the parts to suit ourselves. She would not hear to our throwing up our engagements. The play was to run only a week, and she thought it would be a hit. Finally we yielded. Well, when Sothern came upon the stage as Dundreary, for the first time it happened he had to sneeze, and the audience laughed. So he introduced sneezing into his part. A night or two afterward he happened to trip over a piece of carpeting as he was coming upon the stage, and the audience laughed. So he introduced the skip that causes so much merriment. Again he forgot his part one evening and stammered. The people roared with laughter. After that Dundreary was a stutterer. He stumbled into the very eccentricities that have made his fortune. [illegible] well. You [illegible] a mark of genius to avail oneself of an opportunity when that opportunity presents itself. That's the secret of Sothern's success.

A FRIEND IN NEED.—[illegible] says the proverb, is a plant of slow growth. It is perhaps best not to [illegible] in the Australian bush, judging from the following incident related by a Melbourne paper. A certain person was traveling through a lonely district, when he heard a great outcry. Thinking bushrangers were at work, he fired off a pistol [illegible], and presently [illegible] was heard. On coming to the spot the traveller discovered a man tied to a tree. "Oh, sir," cried the victim, "I am so glad you are come. I have been attacked by [illegible] and they were [illegible]." [illegible] the traveler. [illegible]

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS

In the Senate, January 6th, the following proceedings were had:

The morning hour expiring, the bill to repeal the Salary act of March 1873 was taken up. Stewart desired to further amend the bill so as to except the refunding of all back pay received.

Wright raised a point of order that two amendments were already pending, and he thought to encumber it with all these amendments would defeat the bill. He favored a square repeal.

Hamilton of [illegible] thought $7,500 was none too much salary; that it could be raised to $10,000. He had drawn his pay, pulling a bundle of greenbacks from his pocket, and meant to keep it. [illegible] His State had found no fault with him. It was not so much the Salary bill the people objected to as the Credit Mobilier, but he did not think it such an outrageous measure. He thought Oakes Ames was one of the best men he ever knew, and believed it was the [illegible] of the country who perfected this indictment.

Carpenter announced his purpose to vote for the repeal of the bill simply and solely because the people whose servant he was demanded it, not because he believed that the bill was wrong.

Conkling and Edmunds wanted the bill repealed outright.

HOUSE.

The Supplementary Civil Rights bill was taken up.

Elliott's speech, which he read from manuscript with excellent delivery and good voice, attracted the attention of the House and the galleries, the latter containing many colored people. He referred to the services of his race on the battle fields of the country in the late war and in the war of 1812, and said the negro now appealed to the Constitution and to the Government he fought to sustain, for protection against the outrageous, unjust prejudice founded on caste. Referring to the constitutional arguments of Stephens of Georgia yesterday, he contended that Congress had, under the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution, complete power to pass this law, and to protect all citizens of the country in all their rights. It could not be pretended that the evils of which the colored people complained—their exclusion from public places, from keeping cars on railroads and from the right of sepulture—were the rightful exercise of the police powers of the State. While expressing high personal regard for Stephens, he sharply reviewed that gentleman's secession, and said it was not for him to hope that the American House of Representatives would take lessons in matters touching human rights; that no consideration should restrain him from saying that the gentleman now offered to the Government which he had done his utmost to destroy a very poor return for its magnanimity in coming here and seeking to continue, by the assertion of a doctrine obnoxious to the true principles of the Government, the burdens of oppression which rested on those who had never failed to pray for the success of the Government which that gentleman had sought to blot out from the galaxy of nations. He wished Stephens would abjure all the false doctrines that had marred his otherwise enviable record, and lend his influence and masterly ability to complete the proud structure of legislation which had made the nation worthy of the great declaration that heralded its birth. He would thus certainly redeem his reputation and best vindicate the wisdom of the policy that had permitted him to return to his seat in the House. He concluded with an eloquent peroration which was loudly applauded on the floor and in the galleries, and at the close of his speech he received many congratulations from members. Elliott is from South Carolina and is the darkest of the colored members, being nearly black. He was educated in England.

ANECDOTE ABOUT MR BEECHER

As Mr Ward Beecher will preach at Exeter Hall next May on behalf of the London Missionary Society, it is only right that English people should know and appreciate the difficulties surmounted by those whose business it was to secure the presence of this popular preacher here. Some English Nonconformist ministers who attended the Evangelical Conference at New York were officially deputed, it seems, to invite Mr Beecher, and did so with great solemnity at what they thought a convenient season, after the great man had delivered a great speech on "The Pulpit of the Age." When the audience left they were ushered into the school room of the church, and after a formal introduction to each minister one followed the other in set speeches urging him to accept the invitation. Like many other clever men Mr Beecher probably prefers to talk much to others than to be talked much to, so he tired under this infliction, and just as one of the gravest members of the deputation began in measured phrases to support the petition of his brethren, the New York divine cut in and said, with the broadest Yankee twang, "I guess I should like to go to England very well if it warn't for the preaching." The solemn delegates looked at one another in dismay, and were still more appalled when Mr Beecher put on a very unclerical military looking cloak, with a wide-awake hat, and sat down on the table, dangling his legs a few inches from the floor.

There was an embarrassing pause, says a New York correspondent of the Sheffield Telegraph, who appears to be in Mr Beecher's confidence and gives a graphic description of the interview, and I really think Mr Beecher was afraid that somebody would suggest prayer. His object was to break through the English primness and stiffness, to dispel a too [illegible] atmosphere, and [illegible] the English ministers down into naturalness. [illegible] but that's just what we want. Your naturalness has been a revelation to me, and I want [illegible]. So English divines [illegible] able to study pulpit oratory from Mr Beecher's point of view, and if he teach any considerable number of them to be easy and natural without being coarse and vulgar, he will perform even greater service to Christianity than [illegible] to the heathen.—Pall Mall Gazette.

BAEZ DEPOSED

A REVOLUTION IN SANTO DOMINGO—THE FIRST EXECUTIVE CHARGED WITH COMMITTING [illegible] UNCONSTITUTIONAL AND TYRANNICAL ACTS—APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE OF SAFETY AND ESTABLISHMENT OF A PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT—THE NORTHERN AND CENTRAL DISTRICTS IN REVOLT

[From the N Y Tribune.]

From advices received in this city it is generally believed by those conversant with the subject that President Baez of the Republic of Santo Domingo has been deposed, and that a new provisional government has been established, having for its headquarters the city of Santo Domingo. The revolution which has assumed these formidable dimensions began at Puerto Plata on November 25th, when the people arose en masse and declared the Government of Baez to be deposed on the ground of his general violation of all the constitutional rights and privileges of the people. A committee of public safety was at once established, and the following proclamation or manifesto was drawn up, printed and scattered among the people, who eagerly joined in the movement to overthrow the alleged tyrannical Government of President Baez:

THE PROCLAMATION.

Inaugurated Gen. Manuel A. Caceres and Ignacio Maria Gonzales—Dominicans: No revolution is unjust when it is necessary for the welfare of its associates and public security. We, therefore, disown the Government of President Baez because he has violated the Constitution of the State in nearly all of its parts, as we are about to prove.

Because he has believed the Dominican Republic to be his patrimony and that of his family, and desired to impose upon it his reelection or the election of his brother Damian.

Because he has refused to throw open the doors of the country to more than 1,000 individuals, fathers of families, who have been for six years eating the bitter bread of ostracism and exile.

Because he maintains political prisons filled with so many of the unfortunate who, without the shadow of cause, are suffering horrible penalties while loaded with irons and deprived of all communication with their friends. Among these are Lienado Michel and others, who have been chained in dungeons, humid and loathsome, suffering for six years the fury of [illegible], knowing not for how long this will remain. Even in defiance of public opinion they have been imprisoned without even a declaration of charges having been made against them.

Because of the employment of public funds not in accordance with law, the country not even having any advice with regard to its investment.

Because, after suppressing and trampling upon the statutes of the Dominican clergy, he has placed in authority a foreign archbishop whom he maintains, and who, in the exercise of his invested authority, tramples down the Societies of Our Lady Mercedes and Jesus the Nazarene, which Societies he has abolished after an existence of two centuries, during which they have been revered by the people.

Because he has shed more blood by the gibbet and upon the battle field during the six years of his administration than all that has been crowded into the 20 years of the Republic's existence, including the wars against Hayti and Spain.

Because the revision of the old Constitution was nothing but the work of treachery to declare his reelection for an indefinite term, which the Constitution before justly denied.

Because the national representation has been obtained by force and the dictates of the Government, instead of by the voice of the people which it represents.

Because the prisons of the Capital are and have been filled, without the formation of any Court, with defenceless and peaceable citizens who have been arrested on suspicion, and who, after suffering the tortures of being ironed, are exiled to foreign lands.

Because the Minister of War has threatened to suppress the only liberal paper, El Porvenir, if it dares to treat upon the local politics of the country.

Because he has violated the Constitution in the following manner:

Article [illegible] prohibits the sale or annexation of any part of the Republic, and he has for $1,000,000 offered the country for sale in the American market.

Article 8, paragraphs 3 and 4, prohibit the arrest of any individual without the order of the Judge, who should give notice to the individual before the expiration of 24 hours of the cause of his arrest, without which no one can be imprisoned except in case of a gross transgression of the law. But there are individuals without number, and among them Col Pimentel, with whom they have not carried out this formality. Damaso Manon was adjudged and shot after five years' imprisonment, during which he was loaded with irons and kept from communicating with his friend or family, and even then shot without being informed of his trial.

Because private correspondence has been a thousand times violated in the postoffices, contrary to the meaning of Article 18 of the old Constitution.

Because society at the capital of Santiago is in a state of great trouble, without the power to speak, write or have reunions, notwithstanding the command inserted in Article 8 of the Constitution.

Because, traitor like, he has so arranged and devised means in the Electoral College to secure reelection, making the southern and eastern part of the Republic to return almost double the votes of the Cibao, and thereby exercising an absolute and barbarous pressure by means of terror.

Because Azua gives as many votes as the two provinces of the Cibao with their maritime districts.

Because he has not forwarded public instruction by means of schools and periodicals, the only known method, as ordained in Article [illegible], including Article 21 of Constitution—nor has he ever recompensed any agriculturalist or industry, as stipulated in the same article.

Because the commercial interests of the country are [illegible] afflicted.

Because he issues laws promulgating arbitrary taxes, as in the case of Valez and [illegible], which by the simple order of the Minister of Finance [illegible], and this without considering private interests. He then commands the funds of individuals [illegible].

For all these reasons and many others [illegible] the Dominican people [illegible] President Baez and his Government. We therefore declare [illegible] President Baez [illegible] a Committee of Public Welfare which [illegible] Provisional Government [illegible] General and Vice President of the Republic [illegible] Government [illegible] the Dominican people shall [illegible] by the [illegible] will of the people, the Generals Ignacio M Gonzalez and Manuel A Caceres, candidates for the Presidency of the Republic. We further declare that we recognize no political party [illegible], and that all official employes [illegible] shall remain [illegible].

We admit that [illegible]

We do not forget [illegible]

[illegible] with arms in hand the actual revolution to the last moment, and that he recognizes no power nor political influence whatever of political parties formerly of the Dominican Republic.

The Generals Gregorio Luperon, Pedro Antonio Pimentel and Jose M Cabral must remain in exile until recalled by the Provisional Government, who will do so when the welfare of the country will admit of it. For all other exiles the doors of the country are thrown open.

Given at Puerto Plata the 25th day of November, 18[illegible], in the 29th year of the Independence and the 10th year of the Restoration.

Signed, Remigio Batista, F Ortea and several hundred others.

The Cibao district, especially mentioned in the proclamation, embraces the most important and populous portion of the island, and all the principal inhabitants have pronounced in its favor, giving official notice of their adherence thereto. The island is divided into three districts, namely, the Santo Domingo or Southern district, the Ceibo, or Eastern district, and the Cibao or Northern and Central district. The last named is entirely and openly revolutionary, while Ceibo is known to be inclined to the new Government, although not having declared itself at last advices. Gen Caceres, the Vice President under Baez, the one who was named for the office of Provisional President, on November 9th, five days after the proclamation was issued, published a card stating that he wished to retire to his home and take no part in the affairs of the country, although at the same time it is well known that he secretly favors the revolution. When this card was published by circular and advertisement the people then unanimously declared in favor of General Gonzales, who at once issued a proclamation announcing the formation of his Government.

THE TERRITORIES

The Whatcom Literary Society have established a manuscript paper.

Julius Dicken, editor of the Express, was married in Steilacoom Thursday night, Jan 8, 1874, to Miss Ellen Hughes.

Wheat is selling in Seattle at $1 50 per bushel, oats 50 cents per bushel and potatoes the same, and hay, baled, at $15 per ton.

The Swantown district school opened last Monday with over one hundred scholars. Swantown is a suburb of Olympia.

The Idaho City people are holding a protracted meeting under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Elder Strong presiding.

Alonzo Leland, Esq, is lecturing in Walla Walla county, Washington Territory, on the division of Idaho Territory and its mineral resources.

Last Monday, Jan 5th, Albert Rickards, aged about 15 years, had his left leg broken at Yesler's Mill, Seattle, by a quantity of lumber falling upon it.

M N Upton, of Semiahmoo, and B L Sharpstein, of Walla Walla, have been commissioned as Notaries Public by the Governor of Washington Territory.

A private dispatch received at Olympia last Saturday states that Rev C A Huntington has been appointed U S Indian Agent for Washington Territory.

Randolph's mill at Seattle is making a speciality of sawing hard lumber. He has a fine lot on hand on order, ready for shipment to the San Francisco market.

Mr F L Smith, of the Olympia Grangers, has been commissioned Deputy Master by W Master Clark, and will organize granges when desired. Julius Horton is Deputy Master in King county.

The Olympia Literary Society was organized on Saturday evening last with the following officers: R H Hewitt, President; Joseph Chilberg, Vice President; H Smith, Secretary; A B Balch, Treasurer; J Frazier, Sergeant at Arms.

At the annual election of officers for the Presbyterian Sunday School of Olympia, J J Gilbert was elected Superintendent, Mrs M J Milroy, Vice Superintendent, Geo Blankenship, Secretary and Treasurer, and Hiram Allen, Librarian.

Judge Greene went to Steilacoom in time to open Court last Monday for Judge Jacobs. The latter has not recovered from his recent indisposition sufficiently to occupy the bench. There is an important docket to be disposed of: two murder cases and some 30 civil suits.

The Lewiston Signal says that Columbus Walker has recovered nine of the watches stolen from his jewelry shop on the evening of the 19th ult. Two Chinamen appear to be the thieves, and were making down Snake river in a small boat, and were some fifty miles on their way when arrested. Three or four watches are still missing.

At the annual election of Sunday School officers of the M E Church, in Olympia, the following were elected for the ensuing year: J B Allen, Superintendent; Mrs Paterson and Dr Dickerson, Ass't Superintendents; C B Mann, Secretary; Miss Lizzah Bigelow, Ass't Secretary; Joseph Chilberg, Treasurer; Miss Ella Clark and Eppa Paterson, Ass't Librarians; Miss Mattie Chapman, Organist; L C Gilbert, Chorister.

The Olympia Courier states that the Tacoma Land Company has filed in the Secretary's office an act of incorporation, and appointed Theodore Hosmer, Esq, of Tacoma, the resident agent in Washington Territory. The company was originally incorporated by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, under the title of The Continental Improvement Company, and afterwards by a corporate vote changed its name to the Tacoma Land Company.

The Olympia Transcript says the Secretary of the Interior has ordered the cutting of timber on the various Indian reservations in Washington Territory to be stopped until the opinion of the Attorney General is obtained. It is well known that parties have been stripping several reservations of their valuable timber through the agency of the Indians. The latter received a small allowance for their work, probably, but the profits went into the pockets of other parties. We are glad to note that the business is to be stopped.

Gen H Stevens, of Olympia, seems to be disappointed over the prospects of that place. In a [illegible] speech there the other night he said: "Olympia feels her impending decay. The trade of Lewis county is lost. The grist mill at Tumwater stands idle, for the grain of the Chehalis which once fed them now flows to Portland. Mails, passengers and freights for all points north of Budd's Inlet now pass through Tacoma, and Olympia is cut off from the main highway of travel. The Capital and Public Offices will assuredly seek a more accessible point, and with them she loses half her population and can no longer form a market for the products of the surrounding country. Is the picture overdrawn? Ask the [illegible] and he will tell you that it portrays [illegible] inevitable."

TEXAS DEAD HEAT.—Mr John Bowlow, owner of [illegible], related to a [illegible] reporter the manner in which the Texas Things demand admission:

OREGON

Eggs have dropped to 25 cents per dozen in the Albany market.

Taxes come in slowly in Jackson county this year, and the Sheriff is losing his temper.

The Upper Willamette and Yamhill rivers are said to be at a splendid boating stage.

The Marion County Court at its session last week allowed bills amounting to nearly $4,000.

On Thursday, the 8th inst, the mercury at the Dalles marked 62 degrees above zero, in the shade.

James A Miller, formerly a publisher of the Jacksonville Times, is now publishing a paper at Athens, Ohio.

During the year 1873 there were thirty five deaths in Jacksonville. It was the healthiest year in the history of the town.

The Statesman thinks philanthropists might find objects of charity with but little difficulty in the city of Salem, if they sought rightly.

The Good Templars at Dallas have a movement on foot to secure the delivery of a course of lectures at that place during the next two months.

The stages have been taken off the road between Coos City and Roseburg, on account of the bad condition of the road and the scarcity of travel. The mails will be carried on horseback.

Ashland is quite a lively burg the present winter. There are four literary societies, viz: "The Senate" and the "Young Ladies'" Literary Society at the Academy, and a Lyceum and Mock Circuit Court, which meets alternately each week at the District School House.

Professor Miller, of the Dalles, who was refused a teacher's certificate by Dr D D Stephenson, School Superintendent of Wasco county, has obtained the much desired article from the State Board of Education at Salem. Having footed it down over the trail and braved the hardships incident to such a trip, he most certainly deserves the success he has met with.

The Times says: By far the most hogs slaughtered for many a year in Jackson county are being cured this season. More swine have been raised the past year, which makes bacon, hams, etc, considerable cheaper than was the case then. Considerable money has also been brought into the county from hogs, by Wm Bybee, Esq, who has taken nearly one thousand hogs to adjoining counties. This is a vast improvement on having to import hams, bacon, lard, etc, as was done heretofore.

We learn that the question of the improvement of the Yamhill river, from its mouth to a point some distance above McMinnville, is being extensively agitated in the communities along its banks. The plan is to construct two locks at proper points so that the stream would be navigable for small steamers during the whole year. This could be done and would afford direct transportation from the extensive and splendid wheat-growing section above McMinnville. If the people up there cannot get outside help, they talk of doing the work themselves, and by it expect to save enough in the item of hauling grain in two years to pay the expense of the work.

Forest Grove wants a flouring mill. The people would probably donate a site and perhaps give a subsidy to any one who would build the mill. In regard to local support, the Independent says: Forest Grove has a population of near 700. Hillsboro, the county seat, only six miles distant, has 500, and Cornelius, the railway station, three miles distant, with about 150 inhabitants. The population of the county is between 5,000 and 6,000, and our agricultural lands are as rich as any other body of lands of like extent in the State. And furthermore, there is no custom mill in the county. There are three flouring mills, but they work up only a very small portion of the wheat raised in the county.

HOW TO QUIT SMOKING.—One who has tried and knows it recommends the following rule. He says that if this does not cure, nothing else will, and as it costs but little, the reader can lose nothing by making the trial. THE NORTHERN PACIFIC ROAD.

The Pittsburg Telegraph of recent date has a letter from W Milnor Roberts Chief Engineer of the Northern Pacific Railway discussing at length the feasibility of the enterprise, its ultimate success as a business investment in case it be completed, and the prospects of being completed under the auspices of the present corporation That the construction of the road is met by no serious engineering difficulties has long since been demonstrated, but various opinions have been expressed as to whether it would pay when completed or within any reasonable period thereafter To this question Mr Roberts addresses himself and his suggestions evince much careful investigation of the subject His letter is too long to be inserted at length in the OREGONIAN but the main points made are so full of common sense, that they can not but approve themselves to the intelligence of every unprejudiced reader

The immense breadth of country through which the line of this route lies varying from six hundred to one thousand miles in width all the way across the continent, wholly unprovided at present with means of transportation, is as fertile as any tract of equal magnitude that can be found on the globe True, part of it is mountainous, and in that part agriculture must be confined to the valleys but there is but a comparatively small portion that is not as good for farming purposes as the greater part of New England, while enough of it to make an Empire in itself, is almost equal to the prairies of Illinois

And then the mineral resources that could be developed by the settlement of this region are incalculable Montana and Idaho have rich mines of the precious metals, and all the States and Territories penetrated by the proposed line of road have abundance of coal and iron, the two greatest minerals when we come to estimate their effect upon the prosperity of the country

Scarcely a less important consideration is the lumber that would find its outlet over this track The great plains of the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys would themselves furnish employment to the road sufficient to pay running expenses for a great distance And at this end of the road there is already a large commerce, with a position that must command an extensive commerce from without

Mr Roberts thinks those persons greatly mistake who say the Northern Pacific was commenced before the country demanded it On the contrary, he is of opinion that it is so clearly demanded by the growth of the great Northwest that if it is not completed now, under the present corporation, it will be taken up and put through before long as a work of general and urgent necessity

THE FARMERS' DEMANDS

The demand of the Grangers, as published yesterday, comes professedly from those Congressmen who claim to represent the farmers' movement That demand does not include the regulation by Congress of the tariff of freights, except as to the carrying of live stock to the East For the shipment of grains it is said the Mississippi river must be opened so as to admit the largest vessels of commerce to come to New Orleans The grain is to be carried down the river and meet the sea-going vessels at its mouth And to secure this, legislation, it is said will be asked prohibiting the railways from discriminating against the river towns and towns on north and south lines of railway, in their freight charges This is the extent of the Grangers' demands, as set forth by those who claim to be their spokesmen and champions

They might go further and still be within the bounds of reason They might well ask that the charges for carrying any and all kinds of freight be regulated by law It is true the legislature, State or Federal may sometimes fix the rates too low to allow a fair profit on the money invested in building the road But this is only equivalent to saying Congressmen and State Legislators may make mistakes, which all admit is the case They do frequently make mistakes, and certainly as often against the people as against the corporations They are therefore as likely to err against the people in this matter as against the corporations Somebody has to fix these rates—not for live stock alone, but for all freight The corporations are interested to make them high and will certainly make them too high if left wholly unchecked The producers are interested to make them low and are equally certain if it were left to them alone, to fix a tariff at which the carrying could not be done Legislators are supposed to have the interests of all classes at heart as the sustaining of every branch of industry and enterprise is the way to secure the best interests of the commonwealth at large So this body is probably the best adapted of all men in the State to the work of devising measures which shall be just to all The Grangers are right in their demand but they might go further

The New York T[illegible] says that the steamer [illegible] from Philadelphia to Liverpool on her [illegible] trip took on 1,200 car wheels [illegible] This of course is as yet a comparatively [illegible] release but it has some significance American [illegible] wheels are acknowledged [illegible] to [illegible] of superior character [illegible] method [illegible] manufacture [illegible] the use of chemical [illegible] He says the shipment is [illegible]

EXIT BAEZ

The hasty departure of the President of the Dominican Republic, who fled from Santo Domingo last week in a French man-of-war, seems to have been a very discreet performance Judged by the tone of impatience which pervades the manifesto against him (which we publish elsewhere) the climate of Santo Domingo on the morning of the ninth day of January in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and seventy four, was a degree too tropical for this trafficking son of Mars Buenaventura Baez will chiefly be known to a limited posterity as the author of a document bartering the Bay and a part of the Peninsula of Samana to certain New York capitalists the consideration for which was several hundred thousand dollars We have never heard that Baez accounted to the treasury of Santo Domingo for this purchase money Perhaps he did Probably he didn't This suggests a doubt as to the present value of the Samana franchise which, one brief year ago, was made the subject of a glowing prospectus We have never heard that the New York company built the magnificent wharves and docks which formed one of the most attractive features in the scheme On the contrary it has been said that the enterprise is wholly abandoned Sad indeed to think that after all the fuss and feathers of a formal cession of this fragment of Dominican territory after the gushing proclamation of Baez headed, in vivid italics, "God, Country and Buenaventura Baez" After all this, the rose colored ephemera must at last vanish into thin air Baez conquered Cabral but General Babcock was stronger than Cabral He was strong in the field against insurgent rebels, but in his adobe palace he was not proof against American gold He was caught we may say in the glittering meshes of annexation The Samana Bay Company drew in the net,

There seems to be somewhat more than usual in this manifesto of Dominican leaders The bill of indictment against Baez is a far more impressive document than the ordinary ranting pronunciamentos of the Mexican States The list of crimes alleged against the fugitive President includes the gravest offenses against free government, At the same time one cannot help smiling at the eminently primitive method of getting rid of an obnoxious ruler "We therefore, declare the power of President Baez void" No useless formalities, Baez is simply told that he can be spared A few weeks ago, Baez wanted the United States to establish a protectorate over Santo Domingo We do not wonder for he needed it

The New York Times thinks we pay too dear for the poor quality of Congressional eloquence with which the time of the body now in session is chiefly occupied Concerning the character of the speeches it says "Public speaking as an amusement is doubtless, one of the most agreeable and exciting forms of recreation The sensations of some of our members of Congress especially some of the Western men when they are in the midst of the thunder and glory of their peroration must, we should imagine, be among the most exhilarating of all sublunary emotions Nor is this species of amusement, in itself considered one in which there is necessarily any harm Sometimes it is true, there is mischief in it but, in most cases it does not hit anybody nor anything in particular, and even where it does hit, there is frequently not force enough in it to do much damage Indeed, to be perfectly candid on the subject there is a pretty large class of our Congressional orators who slightly remind us of the individuals that were firing at a mark when a backwoodsman came along and offered to hold the target provided they would faithfully promise to aim directly at it He justly thought he would not be in the least danger But some of the most innocent methods of recreation are exceedingly expensive and the oratory of which we are speaking is unfortunately one of them The cost of our Congress especially at the present rates of pay is no small matter

Our correspondent who writes over the name Smallwood must excuse us We publish nothing that is not accompanied by the true name of the writer No matter how good your letters are the fact that they are anonymous precludes their insertion in the OREGONIAN.

A REFORM DEMANDED.

HILLSBORO Jan 9 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] of the law or the ruling of our courts has been apparent to all who have attended the January term of the County Court of this county they having been in session all week devoting several days in succession to the consideration of a petition and remonstrance for and against the sale of spirituous liquors in Forest Grove precinct in less quantities than one quart The whisky boys employed all the lawyers in town but the opposite element headed by C [illegible] Corne[illegible] was quite sufficient to put them to flight they having gained nothing but the opportunity of the "limbs" to vent their spleen upon a few of the gray headed witnesses who were willing to bear it rather than that the good cause should fail All this expense to the county could have been saved (which by the way I am told by the Clerk is about five dollars an hour) by our honorable Commissioners taking the responsibility to decide as to the legality of the names on the papers from the evidence within their reach as in the days of Hver Jackson, without the summoning of witnesses and virtually instituting a suit upon every name on the petition or remonstrance which was a privilege freely given to both sides Or why could they not come boldly up to the intent of the law and decide that the petitioners must get the names of a majority of the legal voters of the precinct upon his petition if a remonstrance is presented regardless of the number of names upon it I venture to say that by taking either of these positions, Washington county would have been saved at this term alone one hundred and fifty dollars

As tax payers we are all interested to know where the money goes and why not have a law requiring that the proceedings of each month the bills presented allowed or disallowed the salary of officers and in fact every thing affecting the finances of the county be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the county, so that all may be posted in regard to the cost of running the machine? Would we not likely save enough to pay for the publication in the case of the Commissioners passing upon claims knowing they would all be closely inspected? Won't some of our law makers think of this when our next Legislature meets?

TUESDAY MORNING JANUARY 1 1874.

"SAN FRANCISCO IN ASHES!"—Start not gentle reader at the above sensational heading Do not torture your imaginations with wild fancies of fearful devastation committed by that proverbial fire fiend of acres of grounds once covered with stately and massive structures reduced to ashes and ruins of the loss of millions of dollars' worth of property of houses blackened and destroyed of hopes blighted, prospects crushed hearts broken of want woe destitution and all those unpleasant sort of things. Yesterday morning reports were winging their way about the street that San Francisco had met with a fate similar to Chicago, or to our own city A fearful conflagration had passed over the city and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed These rumors flew from mouth to mouth with incredible rapidity and in a short space of time every person had heard something about a terrible fire in San Francisco No one could tell from whence these reports emanated, for no dispatches—private or associated—were received confirming the unwelcome intelligence Insurance agents were wild with excitement and merchants and business men were alternation between hope and fear On all sides and at every hand could be heard such earnest inquiries "Heard about the big fire in Frisco?" "Have you heard the news San Francisco is burning up" "Frisco is all in flames over $18 000 000 worth of property destroyed" etc At last a happy thought struck the populace Surely if no private dispatches were received the newspaper offices knew something about the fire So a furious assault was made on the OREGONIAN office. More than a score of persons came rushing into the office inquiring between their breath "Any news from San Francisco" "How about that big fire?" "How much property does the dispatches say is destroyed?" and a hundred kindred questions They found all the office from chief editor down to the 'devil' tranquil as a summer lake perfectly cool as spring cucumbers and as ignorant of the "big fire" as the inhabitants of the Fiji Islands Suffice it to say that no dispatches were received containing an account of either a big or little fire And not till after the thousandth person had stuck his head in at our door and asked for the "Very latest from the fire" did the run on the office subside It was a big scare, but was not without many laughable features As far as heard from a three cent postage stamp will cover all losses sustained So much for a good fright plenty of smoke and no fire Those who were so dreadfully exercised are searching for the fellow who first started the report The community would like to see the color of his hair

SWORD PRESENTATION —A few days since we mentioned the fact that Messrs Fishel & Roberts had presented a handsome sword to the Scott Cadets Yesterday afternoon the sword was formally presented to the cadets in front of the clothing store of the firm presenting it at the corner of Washington and First streets At 3 o clock the cadets started from the Bishop Scott Grammar School, under charge of the drill master, Major R R Anderson Marching in double file, they came down Washington street, with the colors of the company flying On reaching the corner of First and Washington streets, the company filed to the right and dressed up in a line on the sidewalk in front of the store After a moment's detention Prof Laing Head Master of the school made his appearance in the doorway with the sword in his hand. At the same time Prof Barker, Junior Master was escorted along the line by the Drill Master to a point directly opposite where Mr Laing was standing This gentleman stepped forward and presented the sword to the Scott Cadets with the compliments of Messrs. Fishel & Roberts Mr Barker received the token, and in a few appropriate and well chosen remarks accepted the sword in behalf of the company He concluded his response by proposing three cheers for the firm which had generously presented the handsome, substantial gift Three hearty cheers were given, and the company "about face" "filed right" and marched away to the saloon of Alisky & Hegele, where an excellent lunch was set, to which the members of the company and a number of invited friends partook with gusto A better pleased number of boys we have not seen for a long time. In the same connection we feel constrained to say that this juvenile company composed of boys and young men, ranging from 10 to 20 years of age, presented a very creditable military appearance on the streets They kept perfect steps, although there was no music to time by and went through the various evolutions with ease and precision Their deportment on the streets was quite soldierly, and evinced much careful patient practice both on the part of the Drill Master and the company At present the Cadets number about 40, and are in a flourishing condition Arms are soon to be furnished the company, we learn

CLASSIC CARVING —The Alaskan Indians are noted for the diversity of their genius in the manufacture of many curious specimens of woodcraft Nature appears to have from earliest infancy directed the "bent and scope of their intellect" into the channel of wooden sculpture Probably it is true, the average Alaskan Indian is impelled by a high ambition in carving strange and unique designs from the 'inanimate wood,' and no doubt emulate the accomplishments of a Michael Angelo but the term 'useful or ornamental' cannot be truthfully applied to their carving in either conception or execution Without exception they do carve some of the rudest, most grotesque and even hideous figures which the human eye can ever look upon One of the worst specimens of woodcraft was brought down on the last trip of the California from Sitka. It consists of the rudely carved image of a prodigious toad, more than two feet in length, on the back of which gracefully reclines at her ease the figure of a nude virgin. It is the most unnatural specimen of carving we hope ever to be compelled to gaze upon Purser Vanderbilt brought it down, for which offense he ought to be banished to the Dry Tortugas during his natural life This hideous creature is to be presented to the Portland Custom House It will be rough on the image or the Custom House we don't know which

UNPLEASANT TO THINK ABOUT —Our attention was called yesterday to an old Chinaman who was traveling about the streets with a large basket strapped to one shoulder He was without exception the most filthy and disgusting Celestial we have yet been called to look upon Clad in rags abject and squalid he was certainly not a pleasant spectacle to look at without feelings of loathing and disgust If possible his occupation was even more filthy than his unclean personal appearance Unless narrowly watched, it would puzzle one to ascertain what the old chap was engaged in doing He was observed to be walking along the edges of the sidewalk with his shrivelled attenuated form bent forward and his eye fixed on the pavement Ever and anon he was seen to stoop pick up something, deposit it in his basket and move on again Not until we approached near this old fellow did we obtain a clue of his unusual proceedings To make a long story short he was gathering up from the slums and gutters of the city all the old cigar stumps which he will no doubt vend with advantage to himself to Chinese cigar manufacturers to be "remade" Chewers and smokers do you like the picture? Not pleasant [illegible] on which to [illegible]

FIRING OFF A PISTOL —Last evening about 8 o clock officers Hudson and Sheehan heard a pistol shot in the vicinity of the [illegible] On looking in that direction they [illegible] a large crowd of men collected in front of the hotel They went [illegible] and inquired who had [illegible] charge of the weapon No one as a matter of course knew who had fired the pistol While [illegible] about the crowd the officers noticed a fellow standing close up against the side of the [illegible] with his hands apparently behind him. On being accosted by the officers he [illegible] all knowledge of the affair However his guilty looks and conduct betrayed him and he was arrested A small pistol was found in one of his coat pockets with an empty barrel He confessed at length that the weapon was fired by him but declined to give any reason for his conduct At the jail he gave his name as James Powell This morning he will answer the charges in the Police Court of carrying concealed weapons and firing off a pistol within the city limits

For the skating carnival get your gold and silver fineries at Morris's, next door to the postoffice

A FALSE REPORT —Reports were circulated on the streets late on Sunday evening, to the effect that W S Ladd Esq, who has been confined to his house for several weeks with an attack of neuralgia was very low and not expected to recover The report we are truly gratified to state is without foundation Although confined to his house still Mr Ladd's condition is such as to give his friends no cause for apprehensions In consequence of not taking a narcotic he passed a somewhat restless night on Sunday but yesterday morning he was feeling quite well We are assured that his condition is not regarded as dangerous in any sense, and under the careful and skillful medical attention he is receiving, Mr Ladd will soon be able to be about again This entire community will rejoice to hear of his early convalescence

LINE REPAIRED —Mr J A Crouch who has the repairing of the lines of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in this district left Portland yesterday morning bound south He will carefully inspect the line between here and Roseburg and make all repairs necessary That portion of the line is quite old and frequently requires overhauling In many places the insulators are broken off or faulty and the wire is old and rotten Every rain or windstorm of any violence is certain to prostrate the line New insulators wire and poles will be substituted wherever necessary and the line generally overhauled When Mr Crouch reaches Roseburg it is quite probable he will continue on south as far as Yreka and repair the line wherever deemed necessary

TIMELY RESCUE —Late on Sunday night as a person whose name we could not learn was going on board a scow lying at one of the wharves he missed his footing and was precipitated head-first into the river His loud outcries for assistance brought to his succor a man named Hall who, after much difficulty succeeded in fishing him out He was hauled out on the scow, benumbed with the cold and half frightened to death It was very dark and the fellow could not swim so had it not been for the prompt assistance of Mr Hall the Coroner would undoubtedly have had a subject

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS —Although the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has been in operation but a short time as the ordinance which gave authority to the Society passed the Council only a few weeks ago its restraining influences are already being felt We learn that a case of cruelty to an animal was reported to the Society yesterday, which will no doubt be promptly attended to We hope all instances of cruelty practised on dumb brutes will be promptly reported, and the Society will see that the provisions of the ordinance are rigidly enforced

NEW BOAT —Captain N H Lane's new steamer the Messenger, was launched a few days since at Coos Bay She is of very handsome model, and is said to be one of the most rapid boats on the coast, for her size Even the tug Escort a very powerful and rapid boat which runs about the Bay, is said to be inferior in point of speed The Messenger is intended to run about the Bay as a freight and passenger boat She is under command of Captain N H Lane, and Mr W H Troup formerly of the Vancouver is engineer

DEFERRED —Owing to the attractions at the Rink on Thursday evening, the Progress Club Rooms will not be opened to the ladies on that evening On Thursday evening 22d inst the ladies may enjoy the freedom of the rooms as well as on each succeeding Thursday evening There will be no unusual ceremonies upon such occasions the ladies being privileged to go and come as they please on the evenings designated

COOS BAY ITEMS

Our regular correspondent at Empire City says under date of January 6th

County Court is now in session, Judge Lowe presiding

The weather hereabouts has been unusually rough the past two weeks

Shipment of coal past week has been 400 tons of lumber 700 M feet

The vessels which have arrived lately bring no fresh news from the reported wrecks

The mails from Roseburg have been annoyingly irregular of late Oh for a change

Some merchandise drifted on the beach just outside the bar indicating that a vessel had been wrecked

Arrived week ending this day—schooner [illegible], brig [illegible] and barkentine [illegible] Sailed steamer Eastport and schooner [illegible]

Mr H H Luse one of our most enterprising citizens contemplates building a steamer larger than those now plying on the bay which will be able to navigate where the smaller crafts cannot

The Odd Fellows of this city and neighborhood celebrated New Years Day by participating in a hop at this place The hall was crowded with the prettiest ladies on the bay and the gentlemen came in their best bib and tucker It was a splendid affair—the best ever held here

"FREDDY'S OWN ONE"

A correspondent relates this malicious joke on a too confiding husband

Mr Fred and Mrs Alice Y — had returned from their wedding tour and given out invitations to several friends to spend an evening with them at their house In the course of an hour after the parties had gathered, several fun loving young ladies and gentlemen determined to perpetrate a joke on the happy husband Accordingly one of them whispered to Fred's wife that Mrs So-and-so wanted to speak to her up stairs and Alice excused herself directly and left the room The lady who awaited her already understood the game and talked very deliberately about the Sewing Society and if they had not better sew for the colored people of the South this winter or matters about as important

A young lady of about Alice's size was then sent into the next room which was dark, and cuddled herself up on one end of the sofa and an aunt of Fred's came to him and whispered the awful news that he was on the sofa in the sitting room feeling badly over something Fred's face immediately lengthened and he excused himself and went into the dark room as he supposed to see his wife The now reflected just enough to enable him to see a female form on the sofa with a handkerchief at her face "Alice my poor sweet dear what is the matter?" he exclaimed in a low plaintive voice which the listening company in the parlor heard nevertheless "My little lamb—Freddy's own one" he said sitting down beside her and drawing her into his arms "what is the matter? Speak won't you and tell Freddy all about it" And then followed a number of softly sibilant kisses

She enjoyed it there on the sofa and her whole person shook so with amusement that Freddy thought she was weeping all the time and greatly agitated The company in the parlor enjoyed themselves wonderfully during this scene because listening keenly they heard every word that Fred uttered But pretty soon Alice herself returned, and then they concluded the joke had been carried far enough and pushed open the folding doors There sat Fred and Miss B arm-in-arm and wing in wing The one was tenderly repeating "My own Alice" and the other was nearly suffocated with laughter and squeezes and kisses In an instant after the light struck him Fred saw his mistake And such a sheepish looking crest fallen individual as he was never seen before The company raised a shout of laughter His face glowed with a rosy hue and he wanted to faint and sink through the floor, but finally he concluded to laugh it off and make the best of it As for Alice—well, no matter

HOW THEY SWITCH TRAINS IN ENGLAND —A correspondent of an Eastern paper gives the following account of how railroad trains are switched or "shunted" in England At 2:50 we steamed away north by the colleries thick as far as the eye could reach, stopped a short time at Wigan the scene of the fearful railroad disaster saw where the cars jumped on the roof of a furnace killing those in it and the workmen below The Coroner's jury decided the cause of the accident to be "because the train left the metals" as they say for rails They call switching "shunting" the switch man here sits in a large glass house built up ten feet above the track rods run to all the switches within two miles and are worked in this room by levers, which work like the levers for playing church chimes The switches are always closed so that the straight line is always right unless the man's hand is on the lever which holds the points and throws the train on the other track These switches answer only for going in one direction and it is impossible for them to be misplaced except by design They are in use all over Europe and I think for safety they are more reliable than those in use in America A telegraph and signal bell in the switchman's room tell the position of all trains within his jurisdiction

TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 13, 1874.

EUTHANASIA.

BY MISS A. K. J.

Entranced by siren songs of bliss,
  Denied the boon Ambition craves,
Is't strange I fain would stoop and kiss
  "The inky black of Lethe's waves"
On whose dark shore, far o'er from this,
  Remembrance clings not to her slaves.

Oh! can they of the wayward mind
  Repel at will each grand desire;
Enslaved by thoughts they cannot bind,
  Girt as by circling walls of fire;
One moment, hopeless and resigned;
  Next, longing for the "Come up higher"
It may be, they who do not find
  A wreath where earthly hopes expire,
Not always will be thus confined.

Wait! oh my soul! until the tide
  Hast brought us to the door of Death;
I then will say to him, aside,
  See, here is one whose every breath
Kept prayer for things which were denied.
  You'll let me, painless, pass inside?

So it may be, that there will gleam
  Unto my longing, weary eyes,
Celestial cities! whose bright sheen
  Keeps light the gates of Paradise!
E'n then, once more, from this dull dream
  Reawaken with a glad surprise.

East Portland, Jan. 5, 1874.

A. C. McDOUGALL.

This fellow has finally cut his own trap-rope with that wonderful "knife" he accuses me of using. A letter from B. R. Freeland, printed in the DAILY OREGONIAN of the 6th inst., is the death struggle over that claim of his.

Mr. Freeland says that "Bro. Pearson and myself, as Grand Lodge officers, told you at the session in May, 1866, that you had better go to California, &c." Mr. B. R. Freeland has spoken hastily and without proper consideration of the matter, and evidently has simply given such testimony as McDougall requested him to give. In evidence of which read the following letters of D. C. Pearson, G. Sec., and Miles M. Miller, G. W. Ass't Sec., who served as G. Lodge officers with Mr. Freeland:

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Dec. 30, 1873.

T. H. CRAWFORD, ESQ.—My Dear Old Friend: McDougall was selected at his own suggestion and solicitation when it was supposed L. E. V. Coon was unworthy to install the officers of your G. Lodge.

He never even suggested that he had a claim versus your G. L. until a long time after I moved to California. He had no just claim against your Grand Lodge—none whatever.

I know, as you are aware, I had, by a resolution of the G. Lodge and by virtue of my office, all the initiatory and organizing measures to start the G. Lodge in Oregon and W. Territory on my hands. Repudiate McDougall's claim first, last and all the time as unjust. He was never requested to procure the private work of the Order, officially, for the Oregon Lodges. I never made the request of him. He voluntarily returned to Oregon in September, 1866, and ran for G. W. C. T. at the time I was re-elected G. W. S. Regards to all friends.

Most truly yours,
DANA C. PEARSON.

PORTLAND, OREGON, Jan. 8, 1874.

T. H. CRAWFORD—Salem—Dear Sir: Having seen a letter published, by A. C. McDougall, from B. R. Freeland, P. G. C. T., wherein he says that McDougall organized the Grand Lodge of Oregon in May, 1866, I would inform you that B. R. Freeland is mistaken in his statements and has evidently written the same without due reflection. I was appointed G. W. A. Secretary by B. R. Freeland on the 5th day of October, 1865, and acted as such for seven months before McDougall, who recognizes B. R. Freeland as the first G. W. C. T., came into the State. If the Grand Lodge was not organized until May, 1866, when McDougall installed the officers, what authority had Mr. B. R. Freeland to appoint me G. W. A. Secretary, and under what authority was I acting?

Yours, truly,
MILES M. MILLER.

These letters, mark, are from the first G. W. Secretary to G. W. Asst. Sec. They state the truth, and cover all I have asserted or claimed with reference to McDougall's not being the organizing officer. What will Mr. McDougall say to Mr. Pearson? "At the request of the Good Templars of Oregon." How's that, McDougall, for truth? "At the request of the members of the convention" (1866). How's that for a minister's word?—"a minister of sixteen years standing." "At the request of the then Grand officers." How's that, McDougall, for a man who calls another "a false witness?"

B. R. Freeland says he and Brother Pearson requested you to go to California, etc. Mr. Pearson says he didn't do any such thing! So it has narrowed down to one "then Grand Lodge officer" and he left the State soon after requesting Brother McDougall, etc.

Mr. McDougall wants me to tell him who organized the Grand Lodge. I will tell him, although I have done so once before in the Echo, Nov. 13th. B. R. Freeland, D. C. Pearson, Geo. H. Riddell, Miles M. Miller, Rev. L. T. Woodward, Wm. Harman, H. K. Hines and fifteen others, representing 13 of the 18 lodges then in Oregon and Washington Territory, organized the Grand Lodge, October 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th, 1865. They adopted a constitution, seal and elected officers, and this same B. R. Freeland was elected G. W. C. T. He entered on the duties of that office and under him seven lodges were instituted before McDougall came into the State. According to McDougall, his own witness "rendered himself contemptible in the eyes of all men who know anything about Grand Bodies." (See McD's card.) Mr. McDougall will admit that the R. W. G. Templar is the highest authority in the Order in the recess of the R. W. G. Lodge. Well, on the 3d of January, 1866—three months before McDougall's arrival in Oregon, Samuel D. Hastings, R. W. G. T., wrote to D. C. Pearson in this wise: "Your Constitution and By-Laws and all are ratified, and I have this day instructed Rolla A. Law, R. W. G. S., to forward your G. L. Charter, Rituals and all needed documents to place your Grand Lodge on equal footing with other Grand Lodges, and your Grand Lodge is recognized as in good and regular standing."

In the same letter he urged the representatives to be present at the May (1866) session in Boston! Who, pray, would one of those representatives have been? No less a personage than B. R. Freeland! Did S. D. Hastings tell the R. W. G. Lodge that he had recognized that "contemptible" affair out in Oregon? Certainly. Has that recognition ever been called in question? Never, until McDougall did so.

McDougall purposely tries to mislead the public by saying that the Charter, &c., did not come to hand for three months after he organized the Grand Lodge. If the Charter had not been lost with the wreck of the steamship carrying it, the Charter, with B. R. Freeland's name on it, would have been here at least two months before McDougall ever set his foot in Oregon. All that McDougall had to do with organizing this Grand Lodge was to say over a ceremony of half an hour's length after supplanting L. E. V. Coon, and then allowed his groundless charges to be indefinitely postponed! What cared McDougall, after he had succeeded in foisting this unwelcome person into the Grand Lodge?

Now, Mr. McDougall, do you understand who I claim organized the Grand Lodge? At Silverton, in a public lecture, after you had read my letter, calling your attention to the fact that you were not in the State in October, 1865, you deliberately tried to deceive the people by showing them an impression of our seal to prove that you were here in October, 1865, and that the Grand Lodge was organized October 3d, 1865. You have since publicly acknowledged your error in dates, but what of that seal? Isn't that as good an argument now as then? Mr. McDougall is the dullest pupil in figures I have ever had, and his memory is wretched. Go to the foot of the class, Mac.

That "latest scandal" about McDougall's being drunk in Portland last September, is pretty soundly nailed, and McDougall is now published as he did not intend to be. (See Mr. Master's card in DAILY OREGONIAN, 7th inst.) And in addition to that, I have it from most excellent authority that on a certain other occasion, on a steamboat, on the Wallamet river, Mr. McDougall was seen under the same influences as those of last September, and two of his own church members "smelled something on his breath." Does he want the written statement of those parties for "this scandal?" Appoint that meeting, and you shall have it. "A burnt child," etc. Mac., is afraid of these written statements: the authors won't "down at his bidding." McDougall says he will not meet me because I published his letter. Ah! is that the reason? His letter was published December 27th. Four or five days before that date he told an editor of a Salem paper that he did not intend to meet me because he did not want his character abused by me! Ah! that was the reason then. Reason No. 2.

On that ever memorable January 2d, 1874, Mr. C. E. Burrows, in presence of a third party, says to me: "By the way, Mr. Crawford, the reason McDougall has not met you, is that he has been waiting for Freeland's letter which was forwarded to Hollister, Cal., and resent, and just arrived last night" (Jan. 1.) Oh! here we have reason No. 3! What a pity McDougall don't keep his friend, Burrows, better posted. Here is my reason No. 4. McDougall knows his conduct will not bear an examination.

McDougall says no charge has been preferred against him in the church. Here he deliberately falsifies. I have a letter from a minister of his own denomination in California who preferred charges against him in the church.

Mr. McDougall states: "I find the Good Templars a good body of men and women." Now let us see what that "Good body of men and women" think of McDougall. We quote the resolution passed at the Ninth Annual Session of the Grand Lodge of Oregon:

Resolved, That in view of the contradictory and wicked course pursued by A. C. McDougall, we do advise all men everywhere that we regard him as a man not to be trusted in the position of a moral reformer, and that he is liable to bring reproach upon the noble cause of Temperance.

In taking leave of McDougall this time, I will say "that no amount of lying or accusation will tempt" one to cease exposing him on all proper occasions.

One word more, my "unworthy opponent," you have taken some pains to call me a Spiritualist. I am happy to say that the spirits I have to do with do not cause my "face and nose to turn crimson," nor my "eyes to have a peculiar appearance," nor my "knees to be unsteady." For the present, Vale McDougall!

T. H. CRAWFORD.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Wheat in Liverpool, by mail advices from San Francisco—Average California, 13s 5d@13s 6d; club, 13s 9d@14s 3d.

The condition of our local finances is becoming one of more hopefulness, and quite a sufficient supply of funds available for the ordinary purposes of trade is observed. The city banks continue to accommodate their regular customers at the usual rates, but outsiders, or borrowers on long time, are still compelled to seek relief from the brokers, whose commissions are added to the interest, and bring the actual cost up to about 1½ per cent. per month, at which rates, accommodations may be secured with but little difficulty. That the finances of our home market will continue to improve with the advent and progress of the spring season, there can be but little room to doubt. Within two months much of the sum which has been invested in grain will return to the usual channels of trade, and cannot but give an impetus to business in our midst quite encouraging to merchants and others.

One of our city exchanges, devoted to trade interests exclusively, takes occasion in its last issue to denounce the usury law of our State as the cause of the stringency in our money market, but fails to adduce any reason for such an opinion, or to inform its readers how it is that those States where no such laws exist are just as often visited by seasons of tightness in finances as those that control the matter of interest by law. Did not the influence of the panic spread as well into those States where usury laws do not exist as those where they do? The experience of twenty-eight out of the thirty-seven States in the Union has been such that they retain on their statute-books laws defining and punishing usury. The remaining nine States allow any rate by contract, but fix the legal rate in the absence of any agreement. In none of the States is the legal rate allowed higher than in Oregon, while in the great commercial States of New York and Pennsylvania it is six and seven per cent. respectively. High rates of interest sometimes produce inflations, but are not productive of a healthy condition of commerce by any means.

A Good Word for Oregon.

In Magee's San Francisco Real Estate Circular we find the following favorable notice of Oregon's crops and progress during the year 1873:

The season of 1872-3 in Oregon was remarkably favorable for wheat raising. The crop harvested amounted to 6,500,000 bushels, 4,000,000 of which were available for exportation. The average price paid the farmers was $1 per bushel, making $4,000,000 for distribution among them for wheat alone. Good farming lands in Oregon have advanced an average of $5 per acre within the past six months. Real estate in the cities and large towns has quietly and steadily increased in value during the same time. Every department of trade and business is profitable; manufacturing establishments of all kinds are taxed to their utmost capacity to fill orders at paying rates. The fall season so far is unusually favorable for plowing and sowing. Oregon, therefore, no less than California, is making steady progress for the goal of future greatness.

Home Produce Market.

Our market under this head to-day opens with no very flattering prospects for the week. The delivery of considerable lots of wheat, flour and other products, previously purchased, is being carried on, and the receipts by rail and water continue to be quite large. The delay in the arrival of expected ships and other causes, have very materially affected the market for wheat, for which quotations to-day are furnished at $1 55@1 57½ ℔ cental. Most exporters here manifest a sort of "supreme indifference" about making purchases at present, even at the reduced rates, and, of course, holders of the cereal are unprepared to make so great a concession as is demanded. In the meantime the warehouses here are filling up, and several more vessels could find cargoes of grain and flour ready here to load. In other products prices are steady, without important change.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship California is discharging coal and receiving freight at the gas company's wharf. She will sail to-morrow for Sitka and way ports.

The Island Belle, having her cargo completed, went down the river this afternoon.

The Sylbet, Tongoy and Gateshead are all about loaded, and ready to go to sea.

The Loch Dee is receiving wheat at the lower east side wharf.

The Akbar is taking on wheat at Flanders' wharf.

The Toftcombs is discharging the remainder of her ballast at the gas company's wharf.

The Fleur de Lis is taking on a large amount of wheat and flour at the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf.

The Loyal Sam, at Barnard & Griswold's wharf, has her cargo nearly complete.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

THIS BANK HAS ESTABLISHED IN CONNECTION with the general Banking business a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, and will allow Interest on Coin Deposits made in accordance with the conditions adopted by the Association.

In establishing a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT, this Banking Association has in view the benefits to accrue to a class of persons having small sums to loan, by providing a safe place of deposit, ample security and fair rate of interest, as well as to aggregate and bring into use idle capital.

For the safety of deposits in this Bank are pledged its entire capital and resources, and also the personal liability of its Directors and Stockholders, as provided by Section 12 of the National Currency Act, approved June 3, 1864, a greater security than that given by ordinary Savings Banks. Printed copies of the conditions upon which deposits are received may be had upon application at the Bank.

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late! Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy6d1y
